

We're looking for a part time baking assistant. This person needs to be a self starter that works well with lists and having tasks delegated to them.

The position will consist of mostly baking cupcakes and cakes as well as prepping fillings and buttercreams. There may be other miscellaneous tasks that the head baker needs help with as well as the expectation of helping with customers if needed.

The shift we are currently hiring for is Thursday 1pm-6pm and Friday-Saturday 7am-3pm

The position is part time with the expectation to move to full time most likely in September 2021. Hours will change at that time but is open to discussion.
